NTIA nominees announced, tickets for big night available

The Travel Agents Association of New Zealand (TAANZ) has revealed the list of nominees who are in the running for the National Travel Industry Awards.

TAANZ chief Andrew Olsen says the calibre of nominations and the competitive nature of the awards continue to grow each year.

'In 2018 we have new categories which further recognise the rookie and young executive in the retail and corporate models. The broker piece has expanded to include a team category to further endorse the importance of the broker model. The Best Industry Representative is as competitive as always and one of our most popular awards.'

'A few new faces have appeared this year, which is encouraging, and we are giving a big thank you to the agency brands who have supported NTIA from its inception. We also acknowledge all our sponsors, who generously and actively make NTIA a success,' adds Olsen.

Voting opens 7 May but TAANZ provides a two week campaign period in which nominees can 'woo' votes to improve their chances of becoming one of the three finalists. One key channel for this is through NTIA media sponsor TRAVELinc Memo. Email stu@promag.co.nz to find out more.

'I hope to see lots of good natured NTIA messaging and campaigning in trade and social media in the weeks to come.'

Tickets have also gone on sale for the spectacular NTIA gala dinner, being held at SKYCITY Auckland Convention Centre Saturday 8 September.

'The sixth edition of the TAANZ NTIA will continue to balance the prestige of the awards programme with entertainment. The reality is that 80% of guests are not finalists - they are there to support their colleagues. We have a fantastic night planned, but to find out what we're doing you'll just have to come along.'
